NO SURGEON'S KNIFE why not

DR. LORENZ PERFORMING SURGICAL WONDERS
 VISITS SAN FRANCISCO AND DOES WORK IN CHARITY WARDS. OPERATES WITHOUT THE KNIFE.

San Francisco, Nov. 5.—Dr. Adolf Lorenz, the distinguished surgeon of Vienna, performed two operations at the Children's Hospital yesterday in the presence of members of the staff, the internes and a few visiting physicians. These operations were not public and invitations were limited.

Dr. Lorenz and his assistant, Dr. Frederick Mueller, arrived at the hospital a little before 11 o'clock and went directly to the operating room. For an hour and a half they worked without cessation on the little wards of charity, performing the same operations which brought Dr. Lorenz a check for a princely amount from J. Ogden Armour.

The first of the cases was that of a little girl 9 years of age, who was suffering from congenital dislocation of the left hip. The child was almost a helpless cripple, her affliction permitting her to walk only with the greatest difficulty and discomfort. After the operation, performed without the use of a knife, the affected hip was placed in a plaster cast, in which it will remain for six months. The second case was that of a 7-year-old boy, who was a sufferer from a double dislocation of the hip joints. Following the operation both of his hips were placed in plaster casts, in which they will have to remain for six months. In both cases Dr. Lorenz holds out the hope and assurance that when the plaster casts are removed the children will have perfectly healthy hips, and that they will have the same use of their limbs as children who never suffered from any hip affliction.

After the operations, which consisted in each case of grinding the dislocated bone from its fastenings and placing it in the socket where it belongs, the little patients were taken to the Little Jim ward. Last evening all were resting comfortably. The little sufferers are accustomed to pain and discomfort, and make comparatively little complaint.

After the operations and an inspection of the hospital, Dr. Lorenz was received by the president, Mrs. W. B. Harrington. In conversation with her, he said that Vienna had nothing like the Children's Hospital, and that in equipment it was the best of the kind he had ever visited.

Dr. Lorenz will perform one operation today. The subject is a little child suffering from congenital dislocation of the hip, and the operation will be performed in the Affiliated Colleges at 9 o'clock in the morning. It is expected that several other operations will follow before the eminent specialist on orthopedic surgery leaves the city, but no arrangements for them have been completed thus far. Dr. Lorenz has been informed that there is a case in Los Angeles that awaits his attention, but he has not heard whether the child will be brought here or whether he is expected to operate in Los Angeles. He said last night that he would probably leave for Los Angeles on Sunday or Monday next.

METHODIST FAIR.

The ladies of the Methodist Episcopal church gave a fair on the grounds of the church on Beretania street yesterday afternoon and evening. The principal feature of the fair was a New England dinner. On account of the rain, the tables and booths had to be taken into the paragonage later on. There were in the neighborhood of two hundred people who sat down to the dinner to partake of the tasty eatables that had been prepared by the ladies. The sale was a very successful one, all the candies, flowers, pictures, etc., being disposed of.

The supper was in charge of Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Webb, Mrs. Bachellor, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Bagwell. At the fancy work booth Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Coyne, Mrs. Finley and Mrs. Ramsey officiated. Miss Ripley, Miss Miller and Miss Hughes were at the candy tables; Mrs. Riddleberg and Mrs. E. S. Stone at the ice cream, and Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Downing at the art booth. The fair netted close to $200.

FORT STREET.

Visited the Crater Of Big Volcano

Kingstown (St. Vincent, B. W. I.), Oct. 31.—Henry Powell, curator of the Government botanical station here; J. P. Quinton of the British botanical station in Sierra Leone, West Africa, and E. W. Foster of the British botanical station at Lagos, West Africa, accompanied by guides, visited the Soufriere volcano October 28, and spent an hour and a half on the summit.

The party found the crater in activity. It was emitting volumes of steam and throwing up numerous cones of ashes from the fissure close under the southern wall to a height of forty feet. During the last half hour of the exploration the crater became violent.

Powell, who from frequent visits is well acquainted with the features of the mountain, is satisfied that the new crater shows no signs of having been in eruption. The old crater has become more funnel-shaped than formerly, and is now deepest in the center.

Volcanic ejecta, almost red hot and smoking profusely, has been heaped up around the interior walls of the crater to a height of several hundred feet. The rim of the crater is considerably wider than it was and the depression on the western rim, overlooking Morne Ronde, has been much lowered. In the center of the crater is a caldron of boiling water, and close in under the southern wall is located a fissure, from which large volumes of steam and ashes are seen to emerge. The steam and ashes follow the trend of the depression under the southeastern wall, and, gaining the summit of the volcano, are blown to the westward, thus giving the appearance of having come from the new crater. The party found no lava.

The configuration of the mountain has been much altered. The sea is still encroaching upon the land at Wallibou estate. The Wallibou river is dry at its mouth, but far inland it is running with fair volume in small channels.

There was a slight eruption of Soufriere the night of October 28, when, at 8:15 o'clock loud groaning sounds were heard and a cloud of dark vapor was thrown out. These disturbances have continued, and are causing much excitement at Georgetown, where earth tremors are constantly felt.

From the general appearance of the volcano an eruption of a serious nature can be expected. The administrator of St. Vincent visited the Georgetown district on October 25. He has advised the Governor of the Windward Islands, Sir Robert Llewellyn, that it is advisable permanently to locate the people of the disturbed part of the island at North Union, which is at a considerable distance from the volcano.

NOTES OF THE BAND.

The band will not play in Emma Square this afternoon but will furnish music for the football game.

Sunday afternoon, the band will give a concert on the Capitol grounds. One of the selections on the program is "La Hana o ka Moi." (The Birthday of the King) which is to be played in honor of the anniversary of the birth of the late King Kalakaua.

At the concert to be given in Emma Square Monday evening, the following four late American songs will be given:

1. "A Tale of a Bumble Bee," by Luder.
 2. "On a Saturday Night," by Emerson.
 3. "The Honeysuckle and the Bee," by Penn.
 4. "A Soldier in the Ranks," by Jerome.

RELATIVE OF WASHINGTON DIES

Washington, Nov. 4.—Colonel L. Q. Washington, aged 77, of this city, died today. Through a collateral branch of the Washington family he was related to George Washington. During the Civil War Colonel Washington entered the Confederate military service, later becoming chief clerk of the Confederate Department of State, and toward the close of the war Assistant Secretary of State.

Colonel Washington was for many years prominently identified with newspaper work, and achieved a reputation as a correspondent.
